Preparation courses does not deliver any ECTS.

The registration to our preparation courses doesn't give you a Sorbonne Université student status.

How to subscribe?

Registrations take place from June 8 2026 up to September 25 2026. Please fulfil the application online.

A registration confirmation email will be sent to you containing the payment link.

Course details

Please note: all the courses to pass certification are entirely remote.

Pass the DELF B2

“Pass the DELF B2” is an entirely distance course preparing for the DELF B2 exam (France Éducation Internationale). The content is worked on from authentic documents drawn from the main themes proposed for the DELF B2 exam, but also from literary, philosophical, iconographic works, etc. The Succeeding DELF B2 course also works on linguistic knowledge in line with these skills (modalization, logical connectors, expression of opinion and argument, etc.).

The “Pass the DELF B2” course is accompanied by a videoconference workshop to prepare for the oral test.

Number of hours: 2h / week online + 13h of tutored workshop, for a total of 39h / semester

Pass the DALF C1

This course permits you to acquire an in-depth mastery of university writings and oral studies (argued essay, synthesis of documents) through the study of different themes proposed for the DALF C1 exam (France Éducation Internationale). The various media (authentic documents, literary works, philosophical works, journalistic documents, etc.) also make it possible to review and deepen the pragmatic, linguistic and cultural skills in the French language essential for the success of this certification.

As part of this course, students will be able to follow a videoconference workshop aimed at preparing for the speaking test.

Number of hours: 2h / week online + 13h of tutored workshop, for a total of 39h / semester
